DISMAL PROSPECTS.

The Situation of the British Troops in the Soudan is Extremely Perilous.

Italy Seems Ready and Anxious to Assist England in Her Present Misfortunes.

SOUDAN AFFAIRS LOOK SERIOUS. Stewart's Small Band on the Nile Threatened With Extermination.

LONDON, Feb. 7 .- Dispatches from Korti to-day indicate a serious state of affairs at the British position near Metemneh. Lord Wolseley telegraphs the war office that a courier had just arrived from Gubat, and reports that Colonel Boscowan, the commander of that place, is seriously ill, and the Mahdi's forces are preparing to attack the British camp. The Arabs have several heavy guns, which are being gradually placed in a position to bear on the British camp. Other field pieces are being made ready for the same purpose. The natives report that the Mahdi has 30 000 men scattered between Berber, Shendy and Metemneh, and the force at the latter place is daily receiving rein-

The Situation Further Described.

LONDON, Feb. 7 .- On his way from Gubat to Khartoum January 26 Colonel Wilson was told by the natives along the Nile that Gordon had been fighting hard for fifteen days. January 27 the natives reported that Gordon was dead. On the return from Khartoum to Gubat several natives reported to Wilson's party that Gordon and all the Coptic troops who stood by him had been captured by El Mahdi's men and put to death. Later on, during the return journey, several Shariyeh men came aboard. Colonei Wilson boasted and declared that it was the intention of their tribe to join the Mandi. These said Gordon, Consul Nicoli, fifty Greeks and some soldiers, when pressed to desperation, shut themselves in the Catholic Church, whither they had removed a quantity of ammunition and provisions.

Advices from Gubat, dated February 1, give gloomy statements about the condition of Stewart's littlearmy there. The men had been placed on three-quarter rations. These had been once supplemented with a dole of beans and fresh meat. The camels had plenty of forsge. Shendy, on the opposite bank of the Nile, and Metemneh, three miles from Gubat, were occasionally shelled by the steamer. Troops are busily employed in cleaning the ground in front of the camp and in detached work at the adiolning village. The main earth work at the adjoining village. The main earth works, erected for the protection of the camp from the river front, have already been greatly strengthened. It was calculated they would be completed that night. Several of the men wounded in the desert battles have died in camp since the arrival of the army at Gubat. Others are doing well. The remainder of the royal artillery and naval brigade, with ten guna, including one Gardner, have arrived. A convoy has been sent back to Gakdui Wells for more stores, and have taken forty of the wounded slong. Nearly every night the pickets exchanged shots with unfriendly Arabs.

A second dispatch received from Stewart's camp at Gubat states that Colonel Wilson had, on the Island where he was strauded, 250 refugees, whom Advices received to-night from the British camp near Metemneh. dated February 1, say: It is reported that previous to the fall of Khartoum, the Mahdi sent General Gordon a uniform, at the same time informing him; that Khartoum was in the Mahdi's powers. General Gordon frequently tried to make arrangements for the departure of himself and comrades. The latter became disheartened over the non-arrival of the British, and through anger and mistrust became rampant. The two Pachas who betrayed the city were formerly slaves. General Gordon made them Pachas. There has been a further fall in the Nile of three feet, and at Gubat navigation is dangerous.

The Intrenched Garrisons Not Endangered, LOMDON, Feb. 7 .- During the sitting of the Cabinet telegrams were received at short intervals from Lord Wolseley. What a Correspondent says.

LONDON, Feb. 7 .- The Telegraph has received a dispatch from its special correspondent at Abukra, on the Nile, not far from Mentemneh. The dispatch, dated February 1, says: "Colonel Wil-son's party state that Kharloum fell on January 27. The river banks above the sixth cataract were crowded with Arabs. The Mahdi, in a letter calling on our officers to surrender, implies that Gordon is alive. Stewart expects to be closely in-LONDON, Feb. 7 .- A dispatch from Merawi says the Blackwatch and Staffordshire 'Regiments have passed Bohami Cataract. On their way they destroyed the houses of Sullemen Wad Samz, who perpetrated the massacre of Colonel Stewart and party. The rebels adandoned Shakrok pass. Much ammunition and grain were found there. Cornwall Regiment is now passing the cataract.

More Couriers Expected.

LONDON, Feb. 7 .- A dispatch to-day from Woiseley's headquarters states that couriers, accompanied by an escort, are now on their way across the desert, and are expected to arrive at Korti tonight. They are conveying the report of Lord Beresford's attempt to rescue Colonel Wilson and party from the island in the Nile where they have been hemmed in by hostile Arabs.

Can Spare no Troops from Ireland. LONDON, Feb. 7 .- The War Office reports that no troops can be spared from Ireland. It has been suggested that the Government call out a sufficient number of militia to do garrison duty in place of the battalions to be sent to the Mediterraneau.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

Italy Prepared to Materially Assist England in the Soudan-The English Alliance Favored by All Parties.

ROME, Feb. 7 .- An Italian expedition, consisting of 1,500 men, has been ordered to proceed at once to Suakim. It is reported that 12,000 more troops are being mobilized for service in Egypt.

It is stated that the Government is prepared to send 35,000 troops into the Soudan. All political parties express warm sympathy with England and the strongest desire for a close alliance. It is evident that Italian statesmen see an opportunity for Italy to now assert for herself a position among the first powers of Europe.

The Proposed Workingmen's Bill.

BERLIN, Feb. 7 .- The Social Democrats in the Reichstag have propsed a bill fixing the time of the legal working day at ten hours, with an absolute prohibition of night work, unless the employer obtains special permission, and besides affords working people their boarding. The bill also renders obligatory the introduction into all factories of a set of rules specifically making known to the working people engaged therein of their obligations under this contract with employers. The British Government to-day received warning that a dynamite attack would be made upon the new law court buildings. Orders were issued to close all the courts in the structure at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and to clear the buildings and turn them over to the extra police patrol.

MORE ARCTIC REVELATIONS.

The Diary of Private Heary Has Been Published-It Contains Some Sensational Statements.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.-The journal of Private Henry, shot for stealing provisions by order of Lieutenant Greely in the Arctic regions, covering the period between October, 1883, and June, 1884, has been made public. He write, under date of May 3: "He (Whistler) who was loudest in his denunciation of the unfortunate who was tempted to purloin a scrap of meat, was to-day caught in the commissary, having broken open the door, and was found with about a pound of bacon in his pocket.'

The entry of May 11 is: "The cowardly action in Greely of wanting to shoot Dr P., and also drew a rifle on Bender. Calls Kislinbury a liar and apologizes to enlisted men.

Four days later is the following: "Yesterday Bicderbeck and Whistler had a row out of doors, and some one stole Ellison's bacon, which was under the charge of Lieutenant Greely. A terrible struggling death by starvation actually had no terror for us: we looked on with stolid indiffer-ence upon our coming fate. A few hours before death, instead of craving for food, they kept calling for water, and could hadly be controlled or satisfied. All, with one exception, were uncon-scious for hours before dying. Poor Lockwood came out, his bag to stand in the alley way while the moonshine distillers was going on, and was the last to receive his potation. Ere the rest of us had their rations he requested repetition of the dose from the steward, and upon being reprimanded by the officer for asking for such a thing from the steward, he turned round to the doctor, and said, 'Well, I will go to the fountain head,' and he repeated his demand. Upon being absolutely denied, he dropped to the floor, and hardly ever opened his mouth again to utter an-

Lust night Dr. P. and Lieutenant G. had another squabble over the medicine The majority of us fourteen have given up al hopes of seeing our friends again, but a few have still a chance, at the conclusion of this terrible tragedy, to be welcomed with universal acciama-tion as worthy frontiersmen of Uncle sam, and as men who have made themselves immortal by a splendid victory and innumerable sufferings hitherto incomparable in the annals of Arctic exploration, and against all laws of nature."

The notes of the first four days in June are a brief memoranda of the rapidly sinking condition of those left. These were made just prior to his being shot Extracts from other diaries show a deplorable state of affairs. Insubordination prevailed to a

Mr. Miller and General Blair were also in conference with the President-elect this afternoon. General Grant called at the Victoria Hotel this land's purpose is to stop, on his way back to Al-bany, at Greystone and confer with Mr Tilden, but his private secretary, Lamont, denied this. To begin the great labor which I have before me, I need the aid of you all. The assurances contained in the address I have expected, and they are in accord with my wishes. This special announcement of them, however, gives me peculiar pleasure.

TERRIFIC RAILROAD COLLISION.

Disastrous Results of One Freight Train Runing Into Another,

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Feb. 7,-At 3 o'clock this morning an extra freight train from Philadelphia, owing to a broken truck, stopped upon the bridge over the Raritan River for repairs. While waiting a through Southern treight, which left Philadelphia at 10:30 o'clock last night, came Sir Evelyn Baring, the British Consul General at | dasbing along through the city, and not until Cairo, has telegraphed to the Government advis- | within 500 feet of the extra did the engineer see it. of the freight struck the caboose of the extra, telescoped it, struck an oil tank, of which there were The burning oil and wrecked cars were thrown over and down from the high bridge into the treets below. The burning oil ran through the gutters down the streets into Raritan Canal. This being covered with ice, the oil ran over and down the canal to the wall paper manufacturing establishment of Janeway & Co. This was soon totally destroyed, together with seven dwellings opposite. In the immediate vicinity of the collision, aud just under the long bridge, was a building used as a box factory by the Consolidated Fruit Jar Company. This was destroyed, and the flames then spread to the main factory of the company, which was also totally destroyed. By 6 o'clock this morning the flames were under control. The woodwork of the bridge was burned. The damage to the structure is not yet estimated. Engineer French and Fireman Harrison, of the regular freight, jumped from the engine when they saw the inevitable collision, and escaped with but few bruises. A brakeman on the front of the train, Frank Dumas, of Kensington. Pa., failed to jump, and was carried down in the wreckage into the street below, and was roasted to death. Patrick Dougherty, a young mechanic of this city, foolishly entered the burning building of Janeway & Co., in search of tools, and has not been seen since. It is feared he, too, became a victim of the most terrib'e fire this city ever had. But for the favoring wind, the whole man-ufacturing part of the city would have been destroyed. At no point on the whole road could the accident have occurred at so disastrous a place. The burning oil and cars were literally poured over and flung upon the roofs of the manufacturing establishments. Only a battered locomotive and an unexploded oil tank stand upon the track.

It is now thought that two brakemen on the oil train were also burned to death. The loss is estimated at between $800,000 and $1, 000,000. Fire engines were sent to the aid of the burning city from Elizabeth and Jersey City. Only one span of the bridge is damaged. The bridge was the finest on the Pennsylvania Road. All travel on that road is greatly delayed as long detours have to be made.

THE TOMBS CROWDED.

The Court Room Thronged at the Time ishort Was Arraigned for Examination.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 .- An immense throng of Irish Nationalists, members of the Fenian Brotherhood, dynamiters and others crowded the Tombs Police Court this afternoon, when Richard Short, who stabbed Captain Phe an in O'Donovan Rosa's office, was arraigned for examination. The police torce was also well represented. When Phelan appeared, and Short had been led to the bar, Short's counsel said he would like to know if Phelan had been searched. Judge Patterson re-plied that he supposed he had, but directed the police to search him. The Sergeant put his hand among the bandages which supported Phelan's left arm and pulled out a Colt's five shooter, with a long barrel. There was quite a sensation in court when the revolver was discovered. Short laughed servously, but seemed relieved when the weapon was taken from the Captain. Short's counse asked the Court to adjourn, on the ground that he had just come from Albany, and was unprepared for examination. The prosecution opposed adjournment. The Judge finally set the case down for Saturday next. The prisoner's counsel made a motion to reduce his client's bail from $3,000 to $2,000, but the Court denied the motion, saying

It was the first ever given in this city, and it was a grand success in every particular. The manner in which our citizens interested themselves in this affair must be exceedingly gratifying to the managers of the rink. The work of enlarging this rink is soing on as fast as the weather permits, and when finished it will be the largest rink in the state. Experienced rink managers say the majority of the people always skate where they find the largest skating surface. If this is the case the two rinks now being constructed will not decrease the attendance at the Palsce, for when the extension is completed, this rink will have a skating surface one-fourth larger than the two on Main

Special to the Sentinel.

WABASH, Ind., Feb. 7.-Last November Bill Hickey, a Chicago rough, entered the sanctum of the Wabash Courier with the avowed purpose of killing the editor, Lee Linn. The having heard of Hickey's threats, fired a shot from a revolver at him, and Hickey left. Last night Hickey came to the city, got drunk, and threatened repeatedly to kill Mr. Linn, and this morning when the two met, notwithstanding Mr. Linn's warning, Hickey followed him half a block and assaulted him. Mr. Linn then drew his revolver, forty-four calibre wespon, and fired twice at Hickey, both shots taking effect in his right lung, inflicting wounds of which Hickey is dying to-night. After the shooting Mr. Lunn gave himself up, but was released till Monday on his own recognizance, when a preliminary trial will be held. Hickey is a quarrelsome fellow, strong in frame and prutish in instinct, and the opinion prevailing is that Linn shot him in selfdefense. The affair causes a great sensation here.
